B. Decisions brought to the attention of the Council

2. The following decisions adopted by the Commission are brought to the attention of the Council:

39/101
Programme review: employment statistics

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Commended the high-quality programme review report on labour statistics prepared by the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland,[1] took note of the recommendations therein, and welcomed the constructive response and commitments made by the International Labour Organization;

[1] E/CN.3/2008/2.

(b) Emphasized the need for better coordination to improve the quality and coherence of labour statistics at the national and global levels, which should be done in consultation with the Committee for the Coordination of Statistical Activities;

(c) Reiterated the importance of methodological developments, including the harmonization of conceptual frameworks, related definitions and possible assessment and updating of the labour accounting framework, emphasized that that work was to be driven by the existing expert and working groups, and also reiterated that broad country representation, including from developing countries, should be ensured;

(d) Considered that full implementation of the recommendations of the programme review could overburden the International Labour Organization, given existing resources, emphasized the need for prioritization of those recommendations, and requested the development of a road map for their implementation;

(e) Asked the donor community to support international technical assistance to enhance the capability of developing countries to produce high-quality labour statistics, and noted that technical assistance should be coordinated and implemented within existing technical cooperation programmes;

(f) Welcomed the work done by the International Labour Organization Conference of the Labour Statisticians and suggested that it might wish to review its methods of operation, in particular the frequency and duration of its sessions, and urged the member States to attend the forthcoming conference;

(g) Requested the International Labour Organization to report to the Statistical Commission at its fortieth session on the outcomes of the Conference and other actions taken in the implementation of the recommendations of the review report, including the road map.

39/102
Education statistics

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Welcomed the report of the UNESCO Institute for Statistics on the progress of the work of the Task Force on Education Statistics;[2]

(b) Took note of the proposed method of work in producing the final report of the Task Force;

(c) Recognized the importance of ownership by member States, and reinforced the importance of the Task Force as a forum for discussion to elaborate on a general framework for international education statistics and to provide recommendations on mechanisms for improved coordination among international agencies mandated to work in education statistics;

(d) Requested that the Task Force broaden its regional representation in terms of national statistical offices to better reflect the diverse realities in different parts of the world;

[2] E/CN.3/2008/3.

(e) Requested that the UNESCO Institute for Statistics, on behalf of the Task Force, report to the Commission at its next session.

39/103
International Comparison Programme

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Welcomed the successful completion of the 2005 round of the International Comparison Programme, covering 146 countries, as a major achievement and took note of the release schedule of the results;

(b) Expressed appreciation to the World Bank, the Global Office of the International Comparison Programme, the Executive Board, the Technical Advisory Group, the regional coordinators, the participating countries and the various Programme partners providing technical and funding support to bring the 2005 round to conclusion;

(c) Took note of the comprehensive report of the Friends of the Chair on the evaluation of the 2005 round[3] and supported its conclusions and recommendations and, in particular:

(i) Strongly endorsed the continuation of the International Comparison Programme with a target year of 2011 for the next round in order to sustain the momentum of the 2005 round in terms of accumulated experience and enhanced capacity at the country level and to link the Programme more effectively with the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development/Eurostat programme;

(ii) Supported the ambition to cover the full gross domestic product in the comparison to contribute to national accounts development in the countries involved;

(iii) Requested the World Bank to continue hosting the Global Office of the International Comparison Programme, and acknowledged the outstanding role played by the World Bank in that complex undertaking;

(iv) Encouraged regional coordinating offices to maintain their International Comparison Programme coordination roles for the next round;

(d) Endorsed the establishment of an interim executive board comprising members of the current Executive Board, the convenor of the Friends of the Chair group and interested members of the Friends of the Chair group. A subcommittee of the interim board, with terms of reference endorsed by the Bureau of the Statistical Commission, should handle operational matters critical to the next round, including the hiring of the next Global Manager, fund-raising strategy, organizing feedback from users, addressing lessons learned from the 2005 round and undertaking pilot studies for conducting methodological studies;

(e) Looked forward to the discussion at its fortieth session of the full modalities for implementation of the next round, and requested the World Bank to prepare a strategic paper including:

[3] E/CN.3/2008/4.

(i) A plan to extend International Comparison Programme coverage to more countries, in particular Pacific, Caribbean, and Central American countries;

(ii) Clarification of data access and data-sharing policies;

(iii) Proposals to engage key stakeholders and senior user communities of participating countries to generate support and ensure higher priority for participation in the International Comparison Programme;

(iv) Proposals to build sustained technical cooperation programmes not only in price statistics but also in national accounts, in order to prepare for implementation of the International Comparison Programme;

(v) Proposals on how to integrate the International Comparison Programme into national statistical programmes;

(vi) An outline of a plan to work with key national and international users of the International Comparison Programme, both current and potential, to encourage use of the results;

(f) Took note of the concern that 2011, as the proposed benchmark year for the next round, might present difficulties in several countries since the year overlapped with conducting population censuses, and therefore requested that the International Comparison Programme organizers consider a suitable strategy to deal with the matter;

(g) Encouraged the partners in the International Comparison Programme to continue their capacity-building efforts in developing countries to increase the quality of the data available for the next round.

39/104
National accounts

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Expressed its appreciation of the members of the Intersecretariat Working Group on National Accounts, including the Statistical Office of the European Communities, the International Monetary Fund, the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, the United Nations and the World Bank, and of members of the Advisory Expert Group on National Accounts for their work leading to the submission of volume 1 of the updated System of National Accounts, and recognized the significant contributions of the Project Manager, Carol Carson, and the Editor of the System of National Accounts update, Anne Harrison;

(b) Adopted, in principle, volume 1 of the updated System of National Accounts as the international standard for national accounts statistics, and encouraged member States and regional and international organizations to implement the standard and support all aspects of the implementation of the updated System of National Accounts, including the national and international reporting of national accounts statistics based on the updated System of National Accounts;

(c) Recognized that the time required to evaluate volume 1 of the updated System of National Accounts as a whole was insufficient, and endorsed the Intersecretariat Working Group proposal to introduce an additional two-month period, until the end of April 2008, for completing its review. The review period will allow all stakeholders to examine the conceptual coherence and consistency of the System with the recommendations on the 44 issues adopted by the Commission at its thirty-eighth session in 2007 and the clarifications and consistency issues that flowed from those. During the two-month review period, countries and international organizations will be invited to bring to the attention of the Intersecretariat Working Group their substantive observations but not their drafting changes or revisions to the agreed recommendations;

(d) Mandated the Intersecretariat Working Group to proceed with the finalization and publication of volume 1, after approval by the Bureau of the Commission, in pre-edited electronic and paper versions, taking into account the substantive observations made during the two-month review period;

(e) Recognized that the official editing of volume 1 would be undertaken as a priority, and noted the plan for its subsequent publication in the official languages of the United Nations;

(f) Requested the Intersecretariat Working Group to take appropriate measures to ensure that volume 2 of the updated System of National Accounts was duly completed and submitted for adoption to the Commission at its fortieth session, in accordance with its commitment to the Commission at its thirty-eighth session;

(g) Urged the Intersecretariat Working Group to submit a strategy for implementation of the updated System of National Accounts in the context of development cooperation to the Commission at its fortieth session. The strategy should take into account the inputs of the Conference on international outreach and coordination in national accounts for sustainable growth and development, held from 6 to 8 May 2008 and jointly organized by the United Nations Statistics Division, Department of Economic and Social Affairs, and the Statistical Office of the European Communities, and of other intergovernmental and regional meetings elaborating on action plans for the implementation;

(h) Recognized that the detailed strategy should reflect the need for regional and subregional coordination, given the different levels of statistical development, and elaborate on the advocacy strategy to engage users, especially those engaged in policy formulation and analysis;

(i) Welcomed the proposal contained in the report of the Intersecretariat Working Group on National Accounts[4] to convene a meeting in 2008 for interested countries and other stakeholders to work out the modalities of the creation of a high-level group on national accounts and to report to the Commission at its fortieth session on the outcome of the meeting;

(j) Requested the Intersecretariat Working Group to seek the opinion of Member States, during the two-month review period of volume 1, on the title of the updated System of National Accounts, based on a balanced consideration of the preferences for the title, and to inform the Bureau of the Commission of its assessment. The Bureau will seek concurrence of the Commission members regarding its decision.

39/105
Integrated economic statistics

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Welcomed with appreciation the high quality and comprehensiveness of the report of the Friends of the Chair on integrated economic statistics,[5] and congratulated the Moderator and members of the Friends of the Chair group for the report;

(b) Agreed with the findings and the recommendations of the Friends of the Chair as set out in the report;

(c) Affirmed the role of the System of National Accounts as the integrating framework in economic statistics, and recognized the importance of increasing the coherence of basic economic statistics for enhancing the quality and analytical value of both basic economic statistics and macroeconomic statistics;

(d) Agreed with the need to collect and disseminate case studies and develop other practical knowledge material to share experiences and guide countries in the process of implementing an integrated approach in their national statistical systems, and also agreed that there might be a need to develop a framework for establishing such guidelines;

(e) Recommended that guidance on practical aspects of integration should focus, in particular, on the need for cooperation with users and data suppliers; on development of central business registers and use of administrative data; on conceptual harmonization of data content across surveys; on strong and centralized coordination of survey operations within the national statistical institution; on the need to have within a national statistical institution an entity that was specialized in preparing administrative data to be matched to survey data; and on a sampling strategy that took into account the burden of the reporting entities;

(f) Underscored that such guidelines should be tied to economic theory and highlight the differences between a centralized and decentralized statistical system;

(g) Took note of the difficulties faced by developing countries in collecting basic economic statistics, in the cost of setting up and maintaining a central business register, in building an administrative infrastructure of data collection, in maintaining databases, and in obtaining data from respondents not captured in business surveys, and suggested that such issues be given due consideration in providing guidance, with a view to furthering the integration of economic statistics;

(h) Acknowledged that the merits of developing an integrated system of statistics deserved consideration beyond economic statistics;

(i) Suggested that the follow-up should be led by a new Friends of the Chair group, and requested interested countries to join in the collaborative effort and to express their interest in undertaking the role of the Moderator of the group.

39/106
Tourism statistics

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Welcomed the joint report of the Secretary-General and the World Tourism Organization,[6] and commended the United Nations Statistics Division and the World Tourism Organization on the successful completion of the revision process;

(b) Adopted the International Recommendations for Tourism Statistics 2008 and requested that the final text of the recommendations be edited to reflect suggestions by the Commission;

(c) Requested the World Tourism Organization and United Nations Statistical Division to develop an implementation programme, including preparation of a compilation guide and organization of training workshops, in collaboration with supranational and regional organizations;

(d) Took note of the updated version of the Tourism Satellite Account: Recommended Methodological Framework 2008;

(e) Requested that the International Recommendations on Tourism Statistics 2008 and the Tourism Satellite Account: Recommended Methodological Framework 2008 be made available in all of the official languages of the United Nations as soon as possible.

39/107
Distributive trade statistics

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Welcomed the report of the Secretary-General on distributive trade statistics[7] and the background document entitled International Recommendation for Distributive Trade Statistics 2008;

(b) Adopted the International Recommendation for Distributive Trade Statistics 2008, as contained in the background document;

(c) Agreed to the implementation programme of the International Recommendations for Distributive Trade Statistics 2008 as outlined in the report, including the organization of regional training workshops, the collection of national practices on distributive trade statistics and the preparation of Distributive Trade Statistics: Compilers Manual and the Indices of Distributive Trade: A Handbook of Good Practices, and requested that implementational concerns expressed by Commission members be taken into account.

[6] E/CN.3/2008/7.
[7] E/CN.3/2008/8.

39/108
Industrial statistics

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Welcomed the report of the Secretary-General on industrial statistics[8] and the background document entitled International Recommendations for Industrial Statistics 2008;

(b) Adopted part I of the document on international recommendation for industrial statistics 2008, containing the recommendations for statistical units, characteristics of statistical units, data items and their definitions and the data items for international reporting as the international recommendations for industrial statistics;

(c) Endorsed part II of the document, containing guidance on performance indicators, data sources and data compilation methods, data collection strategy, data quality and metadata and dissemination of industrial statistics, as supplementary guidance for the implementation of the international recommendations;

(d) Agreed to the proposal for implementation of the International Recommendations for Industrial Statistics 2008 through regional capacity-building workshops in cooperation with the United Nations Industrial Development Organization and the development of a knowledge-base platform on basic economic statistics;

(e) Took note of the proposed future work of the United Nations Statistics Division on industrial statistics, including the completion of the revision of the Manual on Index Numbers of Industrial Production;

(f) Requested that implementational concerns expressed by Commission members be taken into account.

39/109
International merchandise trade statistics

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Welcomed the report of the Secretary-General on international merchandise trade statistics,[9] endorsed the United Nations Statistics Division initiative and strategy to revise the existing recommendations for international merchandise trade statistics, and requested that the draft revised recommendations be submitted to the Commission for adoption at its forty-first session, in 2010;

(b) Took note of the terms of reference for the Expert Group on International Merchandise Trade Statistics;

(c) Requested that the revised recommendations provide an updated conceptual framework, as well as guidance on data compilation and dissemination, in the context of an integrated approach to economic statistics;

[8] E/CN.3/2008/9.
[9] E/CN.3/2008/10.

(d) Requested that the revised recommendations be harmonized to the extent possible with the updated recommendations for statistics of international trade in services, the system of national accounts and the balance of payments statistics;

(e) Requested that, in respect of revising the recommendations, due consideration be given to the concern of minimizing the cost of data collection and compilation;

(f) Took note of the commitment expressed by the Statistical Office of the European Community, the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, the World Trade Organization and the World Customs Organization to actively participate in the revision process.

39/110
Statistics of human development

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Welcomed the report prepared by the Human Development Report Office of the United Nations Development Programme,[10] and expressed its appreciation for the steps being taken to enhance data quality assurance;

(b) Underscored the importance of the Human Development Report at national and international levels as a source of information on development issues;

(c) Welcomed actions taken to ensure the quality of data and indicators published in the Human Development Report, in particular of the creation of a statistical advisory panel, the institution of a statistical peer review process and the initiative on holding regular consultations with member States;

(d) Emphasized the need for the Human Development Report Office to further improve transparency in the process of preparing the Human Development Report; in particular, the Commission urged the Office to:

(i) Intensify consultations with countries on the statistics used in the calculation of the Human Development Index;

(ii) Make additional efforts, in accordance to with Economic and Social Council resolution 2006/6, to use country data instead of international estimates whenever and wherever those data are available;

(iii) Conduct pre-publication quality checks on data and indicators with national statistical offices;

(iv) In respect of missing data, handle the use of international estimates in the preparation of the Human Development Report with care, in full consultation with countries and in a transparent manner;

(e) Took note of the initiative by the Committee for the Coordination of Statistical Activities to compile information on regional training institutions that would help to assess statistical training needs and capacities across regions;

(f) Invited the United Nations Statistics Division and the World Bank, in consultation with the Committee for the Coordination of Statistical Activities, to explore the feasibility of developing an electronic platform that could house information on demand for training, potential training providers and funding options, including description of donor funding objectives and policies.

39/111
Collection and dissemination of statistics by the United Nations Statistics Division

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Welcomed the report of the Secretary-General containing an update on the current practices of the United Nations Statistics Division with respect to data collection and data dissemination activities;[11]

(b) Encouraged the United Nations Statistics Division to continue initiatives to reduce the reporting burden on countries, including through joint data-collection agreements;

(c) Reconfirmed the mandate of the United Nations Statistics Division to act as a facilitator in addressing country concerns, with respect to duplicate data requests by international organizations;

(d) Welcomed initiatives to further facilitate and harmonize data exchange, and encouraged the Committee for the Coordination of Statistical Activities to continue its work on developing appropriate tools;

(e) Encouraged the United Nations Statistics Division to make data available free of charge so as to facilitate its dissemination and use;

(f) Encouraged the United Nations Statistics Division to continue its initiative to facilitate the exchange of experiences among countries, with respect to dissemination policies and practices;

(g) Congratulated the United Nations Statistics Division for the development of the data portal UNdata, urging the Division at the same time to speed up implementation of the portal in order to develop its full potential by bringing together sectoral global, regional and national databases.

39/112
Common open standards for the exchange and sharing of data and metadata

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Welcomed the report on the Statistical Data and Metadata Exchange initiative,[12] and recognized with appreciation the leadership of the sponsors in heading the initiative for more efficient data communication at national and international levels;

[11] E/CN.3/2008/12.
[12] E/CN.3/2008/13.

(b) Recognized and supported the Statistical Data and Metadata Exchange as the preferred standard for the exchange and sharing of data and metadata, requested the sponsors to continue their work on the initiative, and encouraged its further implementation by national and international statistical organizations;

(c) Emphasized the need to further involve national and international agencies in the Statistical Data and Metadata Exchange initiative by enabling opportunities for collaboration with the sponsoring organizations in order to influence decision-making and its governance to address their needs, especially in the area of developing cross-domain concepts. This should complement the activity already being undertaken with the Committee for the Coordination of Statistical Activities and its wide range of international institutions;

(d) Underlined the importance of capacity-building and outreach by organizing seminars and workshops and by preparing handbooks, manuals and implementation guidance through training and technical assistance;

(e) Welcomed the availability of the improved Statistical Data and Metadata Exchange website as the centrepoint of information about Statistical Data and Metadata Exchange standards, cross-domain guidelines, activities in domains, implementation, tools and events, including opportunities to submit comments and information to be shared about national and international Statistical Data and Metadata Exchange developments;

(f) Requested the sponsors of the initiative to continue their work in fostering the development of freely available tools and software to benefit statistical systems in interchanges of data and metadata;

(g) Took note of the list of applications and projects at the national and international levels, which are making use of the Statistical Data and Metadata Exchange as a standard.

39/113
Regional statistical development in Africa

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Welcomed the report of the Economic Commission for Africa,[13] and expressed satisfaction with the re-establishment of a focal point on statistics activities at the Economic Commission for Africa with the establishment of the African Centre for Statistics;

(b) Endorsed the proposed recommendations aimed at addressing the challenges facing African national statistical systems, as outlined in paragraph 25 of the report;

(c) Congratulated the African region for the first Statistical Commission for Africa and recognized that the Commission represented the apex entity of statistical systems on the continent;

[13] E/CN.3/2008/14.

(d) Noted that problems and solutions thereto, as well as the creation of various institutions for statistical coordination in Africa, have relevant lessons for other regions of the world;

(e) Called upon African countries to intensify efforts to develop their national capacities to produce timely and reliable statistics in support of their development efforts;

(f) Noted with appreciation the provision of the technical and financial support for statistical capacity-building in the African region by various agencies and development partners, and urged international agencies and the donor community to strengthen their support for statistical development in Africa.

39/114
Development indicators

The Statistical Commission:

(a) Considered the report of the Secretary-General on the indicators for monitoring the Millennium Development Goals[14] and commended the efforts by the Inter-Agency and Expert Group on Millennium Development Goal Indicators in implementing some of the recommendations contained in Economic and Social Council resolution 2006/6 and in including an increasing number of member States in its deliberations;

(b) Took note of paragraph 19 of the report on the deliberations of the Inter-Agency and Expert Group and the recommendations on the way forward;

(c) Also took note of the serious concerns expressed by several member States about the quality of the measurement of indicators, and requested submission of an updated report to the Commission at its next session;

(d) Reaffirmed Economic and Social Council resolution on 2006/6 statistical capacity-building, and reiterated the great importance it attached to its full implementation;

(e) Requested the Inter-Agency and Expert Group to give greater consideration to the need for improving the capacity of countries to produce the indicators;

(f) Also requested the Inter-Agency and Expert Group to develop recommendations on ways to improve statistical capacity-building in countries and to submit these to the Statistical Commission at its fortieth session;

(g) Requested the Inter-Agency and Expert Group and all bodies involved to increase efforts to further improve the indicators of all Millennium Development Goals through methodological and technical refinements;

(h) Welcomed the assessment of data availability on Millennium Development Goal indicators, as set out yearly in the report, and requested the Group to report to the Commission at its fortieth session on an in-depth analysis of data availability and, to the extent possible, on data discrepancies between national and international data sets on Millennium Development Goal indicators;

[14] E/CN.3/2008/29 and Corr.1.

(i) Recognized the urgency of assisting countries in monitoring all internationally agreed development goals, including the Millennium Development Goals, and called on all partners, including the regional commissions, the United Nations and all international agencies, to assist countries in their statistical development in full respect of country demand and priorities and to facilitate the increase in financial support.

39/115
Health statistics

The Statistical Commission took note of the report of the Intersecretariat Working Group on Health Statistics[15] and the report of the December 2007 meeting of the Intersecretariat Working Group on Health Statistics, which was provided as a background document, and expressed its support for the ongoing work to improve coordination of health statistics and the proposed development of a framework.

39/116
Programme questions: United Nations Statistics Division

The Statistical Commission took note of the oral report presented by the Director of the United Nations Statistics Division concerning the current activities, plans and priorities of the Division and, in particular:

(a) Took note of the proposed strategic framework for the biennium 2010-2011, contained in an informal background paper that was circulated;

(b) In compliance with General Assembly resolution 62/133, approved the formation of a Friends of the Chair group to conduct an in-depth technical review of proposed indicators to measure violence against women, and requested the group to report back to the Commission at its fortieth session;

(c) Noted the intention of the United Nations Statistics Division to take the work on social statistics further and insisted that any proposal to the Commission at its next session on forming a city group in that field should be supported by specific terms of reference.
